I've spent 1-2 days browsing the net but found nothing that could solve my problem. Many thanks in advance! A: After reading numerous resources I've finally found a working solution and it's my humble contribution to Stack Overflow. I've ended up with a code which looks like that: string text = "text text text text text text text";

```
//split text on spaces string[] words = text.Split(' '); //remove the first and last words words = words.Take(words.Length - 1).ToArray(); //print words Console.WriteLine(string.Join(" ", words));

Surely I've spent nearly a day on this (or more) and this is probably not the best way to do this, but this is what I've got and it worked. I'll be happy to accept any other idea or suggestion. Thanks again to all for their support.

Archive for February, 2016 Much of the news during the first few days of this year has been about the multiple occasions in which the media and politicians have tried to use the hashtags #CrookedHillary and #Trump2016 as examples of someone being abused by the other side. A subset of these people is being accused of voting for both parties, which [...] The leader of the NAACP, Benjamin Jealous, has suggested that it might be the time for a new approach to politics. He says that there is a need to move past the polarization between the Republicans and the Democrats and look for common ground. He says that there needs to be a "New [...] The leaders of the Republican and Democratic parties have released a joint statement outlining their agreement on some of the most controversial issues facing the nation. While both leaders agree on the importance of keeping a pledge to
