The High-End Edition of the game (Anno 1701) will cost $89.99. A few days ago I published a small guide about the differences between the standalone and the high-end edition of the game Anno 2070 (also known as Anno 1701) which you can read by clicking here. But unfortunately I did a mistake by only mentioning the High-End Edition of the game, which costs $99.99 instead of $89.99. Of course you can buy a copy of Anno 1701 for the difference of $10 for a one-time license and maybe you would be interested in a free CD key. There are so many tools that a player can use to make his career in the real Anno World (Such as the Anno Creator, the Anno Community, Anime Scanners and the like). Today I would like to tell you about a program that you can use to create your very own custom map, which I did not expect that I can publish it. Furthermore you can develop your own settings or maps with the help of Anno Creator or the Anno Community. (Read this article to find out more about the development of your own map) For the full version of Anno 2070 Deluxe Edition you have to download the Anno 2070 Deluxe Edition Keygen and register the license again in the store. But we gave you already a free copy of the game and all you have to do is to transfer the license data and you have access to the full game. It's so easy! In order to start the Anno 2070 Deluxe Edition, you need a download-link or a serial number. But there are so many websites where you can find serial numbers. The serial number of Anno 2070 can be found on the official Anno 2070 website in the game directory or on the official Anno 2070 Steam-page. Create a new folder with "anno-2070" as a subfolder.
